I am a Flight Attendant,just imagining that all my passengers using cellphones in the air will be very frustrating, stressful, annoying, interuption in my duties of safety! already we have issues of making people listen to safety instructions and comply, people dont listen 90% of the time and get mad at us on enforcing rules of safety, so i cant even imagine using cellphone in air! also this would invite hi-jacking as everyone is busy on cellphones, no one is really concentrating on anything unusual going on in the cabin. We already have very very tensed cabin environment and allowing cellphones in air will make things worse......i dont know how the crew will ever get thru evacuating a flight in case of emergency.....This is a very bad idea if allowing cellphones in the air!
